

2-d International Symposium “CLASSICAL HOMEOPATHY – MEDICINE OF THE NEW MILLENNIUM” took place in Novosibirsk (Russia) on 25-29 April 2019.

Symposium which was organized by Siberian Homeopathic Association in collaboration with International Academy of Classical Homeopathy and Novosibirsk Centre of Classical Homeopathy, became a significant event for Russian and Kazakhstan Homeopathy. Physicians – homeopaths from 15 different regions of Russia and Kazakhstan and lecturers from Switzerland, India, Greece and Russia participated in Symposium.

The first 2 days of Symposium were devoted to theoretical basis of Classical Homeopathy

First lecture: «Continuum of unified Theory of Diseases, the role of consciousness triggering a diseases», Stefano Carlino, International Academy of Classical Homeopathy (IACH, Alonissos, Greece), Center of Classical Homeopathy, Monthey, Switzerland.

Lecture: «The difficult aspects in treating patients of III (C) group of health». N.Kubasheva, the Coordinator of the e-learning program of the International Academy of Classical Homeopathy in Russian Federation, the Head of "The Clinic of Nadezhda Kubasheva", Moscow.

Lecture: “Different Strategies in choice of remedies in Classical Homeopathy”, Dr. Atul Jaggi, Dr. Latika Jaggi, the teacher of the International Academy of Classical Homeopathy, BHMS, Center of Classical Homeopathy, New Delhi, India.

Lecture: «Disputable issues of Miasmatic Theory in Classical Homeopathy. Transformation of ideas: from Hahneman till modern times», President of the SHA, Director of the Novosibirsk Centre of Classical Homeopathy, PhD, MD, D. Chabanov.

The long-awaited event of the first two days of the Symposium - a video conference with professor, rector of IACH George Vithoukas (Alonissos, Greece), in which the Professor answered a huge variety of questions of the Symposium participants: from the spiritual evolution of man to the use of homeopathy plant growing.

The demonstration of the online program Vithoukas-compass by Elena Edretz aroused great interest, the issues of translation of the repertory rubrics were discussed.

A round table discussion on the legal aspects of the work of a homeopath in Russia turned out to be very valuable.

Round work table "Legal and organizational issues of Homeopathy in Russia", the speakers: V.Egorov, Health Care Committee of the Russian State Duma, vice-chairman of the Coordinating Council on Traditional Medicine of the Ministry of Health of Russia; M.Tomkevich, president of the National Traditional Medicine Association, the member of the Scientific Council of the National Medical Chamber of Russia, Doctor of Medical Science.

A pleasant event was the awarding of the participants of the Contest "Doctor of the year" 2018, which is held the third year in a row.

The winner of the Contest “Doctor of the year 2018” Irina Fedorovskiyh with his work "the Phenomenon of reversion of symptoms on the background of homeopathic treatment of calculous chronic cholecystopancreatitis".

The works of other participants were also very worthy and received high praise and various prizes. All presented works are published in the journal of Siberian Homeopathic Association "Classical homeopathy" 2019.

During the next 3 days of the Symposium the author's seminars of doctors Atul and Latika Jaggi (BHMS, New Delhi, India), Dmitry Chabanov (Novosibirsk) and Irina Kuzmina (Moscow) were conducted.

Doctors Atul and Latika Jaggi presented a case of management of severe renal insufficiency, on the example of which they demonstrated the basic laws of the theory of health levels of professor G. Vithoulkas. Atul was, as always, very scrupulous and consistent in the evaluation of the case, the selection of the drug, the tactics of patient management. This was very instructive!

The seminar of Dmitry Chabanov was devoted to the treatment of acute pathology on the background of chronic treatment. Important aspects of the seminar - the correct patient questioning and differential diagnosis of "acute" remedies, which was very valuable for both novice homeopaths and experienced practitioners. There was a lively discussion, exchange of views and experience in the hall.

Right: Olga Yun, physician – homeopath (Moscow) talks about the use of "acute remedies" in ENT practice.

The report of Alexander Stolyarov (Krasnodar) was devoted to the analysis of the possibility of cure of pollinosis and bronchial asthma.

Irina Kuzmina in the framework of her seminar focused on the compilation of the correct set of symptoms and causes of unsuccessful prescribing.

There was an atmosphere of unity at the Symposium, it was a celebration of real Classical Homeopathy!

Learning from each other and sharing of experience is something that is close to every homeopath, this is what we saw at the Symposium!
